This graph shows the number of people who visited Ikubun zoo this spring. It shows that March had more visitors than April. And April had more than June. It rained a lot in June, so the zoo didn't have many visitors. May had the most visitors of the four months because of Golden Week.

I'm Ken, 14 years old. I like taking pictures. Last summer, I went to Oshima with my classmate, Tom. We wanted to take beautiful pictures on the island.

One summer night, we got on a ship and left for the island. We were so excited that we were walking around the ship. We met a girl, Ami and her parents, and talked with them. Her parents asked us, "Where are your parents?" We replied, "They are at home." Her parents were surprised to hear that and gave us some snacks, saying "Good luck." After taking pictures with them, we slept in a sleeping bag.

In the morning, the ship arrived at Oshima. We felt very sleepy, but got very excited soon. We saw a sunrise above the sea. It looked like a big fireball, and the sea was orange. We took many beautiful pictures.

Next, we went to a beautiful sea area. There were a lot of kinds of fish. We took many pictures of them through the water. Tom said to me, "Let's swim, Ken!" I said, "I want to, but I can't. I didn't bring a swimsuit." Tom said, "No problem, and let's go into the sea!" Then, I jumped into the sea! We saw many fish in the water, swam a lot, and laughed.

After that, we got tired, and slept on the beach. When we got up, we found the ship would leave soon. We slept too long, so we ran to the ship. We managed to catch the ship and got on it. Then, Ami was there. She was on the same ship again. I was glad to see her because I secretly loved her. As soon as Ami looked at us, she started to laugh at us and said, "Who are you?" You look really different. We got so sunburned and our skin color turned red because we slept on the beach too long.
